

RITZ Instrument Transformers GmbH achieves the IRIS Silver Quality Performance Level

We are pleased to announce that RITZ Instrument Transformers GmbH has achieved the IRIS Silver Quality Performance Level in its most recent audit. Out of approximately 3,000 companies worldwide certified under IRIS, only 401 have reached this status so far, and only six companies have achieved the next higher Gold level. This result underlines the strong performance of our quality management system.

The IRIS Quality Management System was developed by the Association of the European Rail Industry (UNIFE). Companies certified according to this internationally recognized standard are distinguished by robust business and quality management systems that ensure consistently high quality of their products and services. Achieving the Silver level also confirms compliance with additional demanding quality criteria.

These requirements must not only be met, but also demonstrated over a minimum period of six months in a transparent, measurable, analyzable, and audit-proof manner. They clearly reflect the level of performance we deliver every day to ensure that our customers can rely on receiving high-quality products.

The Managing Director of RITZ Marchtrenk, Helmut Umgeher, summarizes this as follows:

“The achievement of the IRIS Silver Quality Performance Level underlines the strategy of RITZ Instrument Transformers GmbH Marchtrenk to operate in accordance with the highest international standards. In doing so, we aim to meet the high quality requirements of our customers in the railway and power supply industries and to continue being a reliable and trusted partner. We are proud to be among the only 20 percent of IRIS-certified companies in the German-speaking region that have achieved this level so far.”
